

Join Bergen County Commissioner Tracy Zur

Tuesday, March 2, 8:00pm

For a presentation on Food Insecurity in Bergen County, and what we can all do to help our neighbors in need.

Tracy Zur is currently a Commissioner in the County of Bergen, a member of the Board of Trustees of Jewish Federation of Northern New Jersey, and a member of the Temple Israel. She has extensive experience within governmental and nonprofit entities. In the past, Ms. Zur served as a judge in the Bergen County Central Municipal Court, Prosecutor in the City of Hoboken and Passaic, Public Defender in the City of Englewood and Borough of Woodcliff Lake, Assistant Corporation Counsel in Jersey City, and Commissioner on the Bergen County Utilities Authority. In July of 2020, Commissioner Zur launched the Bergen County Food Security Task Force to address the growing rate of food insecurity in Bergen County and the impact on our local food pantries. She continues her work to ensure that Bergen County's food pantries have adequate access to nutritious food for families in need, and to bring awareness to the face of hunger in Bergen County.
