Follow the path of four historic synagogues in Manhattan

- ◆ Where did they come from
- ◆ When did they arrive
- ◆ Where were they built
- ◆ Which synagogues still remain

Steve- I came from a home with a history teacher for a father and a librarian for a mom and a sister who was an encyclopedia for all things to do with history, art and philosophy. My dad had a passion for bakeries in NYC and would explore ethnic foods and treats. Exploration, discovery and foods are my passions. As a result Kornblit Tours was born.

Susan-I caught the travel bug from Steve. In the early years of our marriage, we would spend weekends in NYC to see Broadway shows, and explore different ethnic neighborhoods. Bagels and Lox from Zabar's and time spent at the Guggenheim or the Met were also favorites of mine.

The mission of Kornblit Tours is to take advantage of the amazing place that is NYC. We live in the NY metro area and we want to share it with our neighbors and visitors from distant places.
